

Anonymous

I would like to say to the families that have lost loved ones: never give up hope. And keep asking the Vancouver police what happened. And just never give up hope, and just keep praying to the lord that they will be found someday—all my relations.